A solution for every type of business:

FAST FOOD

An unattended solution where the customers enter their orders on the touch screen. The customers pay and collect the ticket from CashDro. Meanwhile, the waiter prepares the tray with the requested products as they have been sent instantly to the printer (or kitchen screen) of a bar and/or kitchen.

SUPERMARKET

An attended solution where the cashiers scan the barcode on the items and total the sales. On the customer screen the sales total is displayed. The clients can then pay with cash and collect the change along with the sales ticket. The second screen can be also used to display offers, advertisements, and ticket sales.

BAKERIES

Attended solution where the sellers select the items being purchased from the screen or inputs the weight from the scale. When totalizing the sale, the customer can see displayed the amount due. The client can then pay with cash and collect the change along with the sales ticket. An ideal solution for businesses that sell food because that the seller does not have to handle food and/or money
